Proposals and References

Proposal 1: Appropriation of Retained Earnings

The Company considers the return of profits to shareholders to be one of its most important management issues. Taking future business development and changes in the business environment into consideration, the Company aims for the consolidated payout ratio of 30% as its basic policy and strives to continuously pay stable dividends.

The Company ensures the investments necessary to increase corporate value and financial soundness. Based on the above policy, and from the perspective of shareholder returns that take cash flows into consideration, as well as the fact that the Company achieved a new record high in terms of net income attributable to owners of the parent, the Company proposes a year-end dividend of ¥22 per share for the fiscal year under review.

As a result, the annual dividend for the fiscal year under review will be ¥40 per share, as the Company already paid an interim dividend of ¥18 per share, and the consolidated payout ratio will be 34.5%. Taking into account the effect of the 2-for-1 split of its common stock implemented on April 1, 2024, the annual dividend will have increased by ¥5 per share compared to the previous fiscal year.

1. Type of dividend property

2. Matters concerning the allotment of dividend property and the total amount paid to shareholders

(Notes) 1. A stock split took place as at April 1, 2024, whereby one ordinary share was split into two shares.

2. The consolidated payout ratio for the 44th Fiscal Year was calculated with the inclusion of a 40th anniversary commemorative dividend of ¥10.

3. The figures for the 46th Fiscal Year (Fiscal Year under Review) assume that this proposal will be approved as originally proposed.

Proposal 2: Election of Eleven (11) Directors (Excluding Directors Who Are Members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee)

The terms of office of all twelve (12) current Directors (excluding Directors who are members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee) will expire at the conclusion of this General Meeting of Shareholders. Accordingly, in order to enable speedier decision-making, the Company proposes to reduce the number of Directors by one (1) and elect eleven (11) Directors.

In the selection of the candidates for Director, to enhance transparency and objectivity, the Company consulted the Nomination and Remuneration Committee (chaired by an External Director, with External Directors comprising the majority of its members), and the Board of Directors decided on the candidates after deliberation and recommendations by the Committee.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee, as a result of deliberation of this proposal, has expressed its opinion that the candidates are appropriate as Directors of the Company.

	[Other items related to the candidate] In October 2020, a failure occurred in the arrowhead cash equity trading system of Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. As a result, it was recognized that there were deficiencies in the settings for the automatic switching function of the faulty equipment, and that the TSE's rules regarding the resumption of trading were insufficient. In November 2020, TSE received a business improvement order from the Financial Services Agency. Even before the incident occurred, Ms. Kohda had been making appropriate recommendations at JPX Board of Directors meetings regarding stable and reliable market management. During her tenure, Ms. Kohda recognized that the trust of investors and market participants, including listed companies, in the JPX Group is critical to the company's business operations, and she therefore made appropriate recommendations to the JPX Board of Directors regarding the compliance of officers and employees with laws and regulations as well as how the internal control system should be organized.

1. Operating results overview

(1) Operating results for the fiscal year under review

In the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025, Capcom Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) actively pursued investments for growth focused on the ongoing enhancement of digital sales in order to further evolve and expand within the global market. Moreover, the Company made further efforts in its human resources investment strategy, which is one of its top priorities, with the aim of stable and sustainable growth. In line with these kinds of management strategies, the Company worked to enhance corporate value over the medium to long term by continuing to strengthen its development and technological capabilities; this included acquiring a 3D computer graphics production company with prowess in the creation of animation in consumer game development as a subsidiary.

Regarding business performance, the Company made efforts to increase global sales in its core Digital Contents business by launching Monster Hunter Wilds, a major new title in its flagship series, while pursuing catalog sales of major titles released in the previous fiscal years. These efforts brought sales volumes in the Digital Contents business in the fiscal year under review to 51.87 million units, exceeding the previous fiscal year’s figure of 45.89 million units. In addition, with the Company’s efforts to promote its digital sales strategies, sales volumes of catalog titles were 39.49 million units, up from 36.29 million units in the previous fiscal year. As a result, the Company sold 248 titles in 227 countries and regions, contributing to enhancing the value of its brands.

The Company also aimed to enhance the brand value of its intellectual properties (IPs) by coordinating the activities of its major content with film and television productions, licensed merchandise, and esports. It also worked to increase earnings: in Arcade Operations this was through the steady operation of amusement arcades and the promotion of store openings in new store formats; in Amusement Equipments, the Company continued to release smart pachislo machines and utilize its popular IPs.

As a result, net sales for the fiscal year under review were 169,604 million yen (up 11.3% year on year), operating income was 65,777 million yen (up 15.2% year on year), ordinary income was 65,635 million yen (up 10.5% year on year), and net income attributable to owners of parent was 48,453 million yen (up 11.7% year on year). Status of business by operating segment

① Digital Contents business

In the Digital Contents business, the Company released Monster Hunter Wilds (for PlayStation 5, Xbox Series X|S, and PC), the latest title in the series, in February 2025. As a result of both satisfying the strong expectations of fans and successful measures to build awareness through various events and other activities, worldwide sales surpassed 10 million units, which contributed to earnings.

Regarding catalog titles, anticipation for Monster Hunter Wilds provided momentum for ongoing growth in the sales of Monster Hunter World: Iceborne and Monster Hunter Rise; as a result, cumulative sales of the series overall surpassed 100 million units worldwide, helping to enhance the brand value of Monster Hunter. In addition, the Company conducted proactive promotional campaigns to build wider awareness of its IPs and acquire new fans, focusing primarily on the sales of series titles, such as Resident Evil 4. Furthermore, the Company continued to strengthen coordination between its games and esports activities to pursue wider brand recognition and an expanded user base for Street Fighter 6, the major new title in its flagship series released in the previous fiscal year.

In Mobile Contents, Monster Hunter Now, which was released in the previous fiscal year, continued to gain popularity among a wide base of users, as cumulative downloads exceeded 15 million, contributing to greater penetration and increased value for the Monster Hunter brand. ② Arcade Operations business

In Arcade Operations, in addition to trends in inbound tourism and post-COVID-19 out-of-home spending, consumer lifestyle habits are undergoing change. As such, factors such as steady operations at existing stores and store openings in new formats led to an increase in the number of visitors, which contributed to earnings expansion. Moreover, the Company worked to maximize the appeal of its brick-and-mortar stores and create synergies with other businesses by holding live events and other activities.

Further, Monster Hunter Rise, released in November 2024, garnered acclaim from the market, leading to sales of 21 thousand units. ④ Other Businesses

In Other Businesses, beginning in April 2024, the Company bolstered its structure by integrating internal organizations to facilitate collaboration with its eSports and Character businesses, with the aim of improving the brand value of its titles.

With this structure in place, the Company utilized its popular title Street Fighter 6 and began the global Capcom Pro Tour 2024 in June, while also holding the team-league Street Fighter League: Pro-JP 2024 in Japan from August, followed by league contests in the United States and Europe, leading to heated battles unfolding across these various competitions. In addition, the Company held championship tournaments, Capcom Cup 11 and Street Fighter League: World Championship 2024, at Japan's famous National Sumo Arena, Ryogoku Kokugikan, in March 2025. The two events were a great success, drawing much attention for being the first time they were held in Japan, and attracting a total of 14,000 visitors and recording more than 10 million views online. Through such measures, the Company has aimed to further promote esports on a global scale.

Additionally, Mega Man: Start, part of the Amazon Prime Video animated series Secret Level, was made available for streaming worldwide in December 2024. The Company also focused on promoting various events and collaborations in conjunction with the 20th anniversary of the Monster Hunter series, as well as developing character merchandise for its popular titles, which progressed favorably. Regarding the outlook going forward, the business environment is undergoing significant changes: the transition to high-speed, high-capacity mobile communication standards, more distribution channels for content, diversification of devices, and the expansion of the global gaming user base. In such an environment, the Company has achieved its medium-term management goal of achieving 10% annual growth in operating income for 10 consecutive fiscal years. Looking ahead, it will strive to captivate people throughout the world with best-in-class entertainment. At the same time, it will seek to further expand the reach of its content in the over 220 countries and regions in which it sells games by enhancing its brand and attracting new users.

For this reason, the Company aims to achieve 100 million units in annual sales in its core Digital Contents business by strengthening its long-term pricing measures and global sales via enhanced marketing attuned to the characteristics of different countries and regions while working to understand user needs.

Moreover, the Company will strive to develop the Arcade Operations and Amusement Equipments businesses by using popular IPs and major content, as well as uncover latent users and maximize profit-earning opportunities by raising awareness of IPs through investment in and leveraging of film and television productions, licensing merchandise, and esports.

In addition to the above strategies, the Company will continue its efforts to achieve its medium-term management goal by promoting its human resources investment strategy, which will be the driving force for the Company's sustainable growth, and by strengthening investments in its development system and environment to increase its product pipeline through the creation of new IPs and utilization of major existing IPs.

On top of its business activities, the Company is also working to contribute to regional, cultural, and technological development by sponsoring and participating in the Osaka Healthcare Pavilion, which is being exhibited by the Osaka Prefectural and City governments at Expo 2025 Osaka, Kansai, Japan from April 2025.

Through various activities, the Company will continue to work toward realizing its management philosophy of being a creator of entertainment culture that stimulates the senses and excites people through game entertainment.

The Company has positioned initiatives regarding human capital, which is the source of corporate value creation, as one of its priority issues and has therefore established a Chief Human Resources Officer (CHO) to promote its human resources investment strategy.

The Company will continue to enhance its corporate value by implementing the following initiatives:

a. Securing and developing human resources to support the future

In order to enhance its development system—the source of its core competitiveness—and achieve its ongoing medium-term management objective, the Company recognizes the importance of bolstering its development workforce and enhancing productivity through investment in human capital. As such, in addition to continuing efforts to increase its workforce by more than 100 developers every year, the Company implemented various measures from 2022 onward to enhance its ability to recruit and retain employees, such as increasing the average annual base salary of full-time employees by 30%, establishing a more performance-linked bonus system, and introducing a stock-based compensation system for employees. As a result, the Company has secured 2,846 developers in its workforce as of March 31, 2025.

In addition, the Company will continue its efforts to attract top talent by raising the starting monthly salary for new graduates to 300,000 yen in April 2025, which will enhance Capcom's recruitment competitiveness in terms of remuneration, as well as by promoting industry-academia collaboration initiatives and expanding mid-career recruitment channels.

Moreover, the Company has introduced mentor training and other programs for the early development of young employees to foster and strengthen the human resources that underpin its future.

b. Organizing and improving the working environment

In order to expand its development environment and facilities to accommodate the increasing scale of development and sophistication of technology, the Company is expanding its workforce and making growth investments, such as acquiring real estate as business assets.

In addition, it is focusing on cultivating a corporate culture of respect for human rights and creating a comfortable working environment while raising the awareness of its executives and employees through training and leveraging opportunities for direct dialogue between management and employees. The Company will continue to focus on creating a better working environment to prevent employee turnover and increase engagement.

c. Ensuring human resource diversity

In order for the Company to further expand the number of development personnel in the future, it is necessary to create an environment in which human resources with diverse backgrounds can maximize their abilities.

The Company, therefore, is making efforts to secure and develop diverse human resources through recruitment and evaluation, regardless of gender, nationality, age, and other attributes.

The Company aims to achieve the percentage of male employees taking childcare leave to at least 85%, as well as raising the gender wage gap to at least 88% by the end of March 2029, in addition to introducing a partnership system with more inclusive definitions of spouses and conducting nursing care seminars.

As of March 31, 2025, the Company employs foreign nationals from a total of 36 different countries. It has therefore introduced measures for foreign national employees, such as Japanese language learning and a special leave system for them to visit their home countries.

The Company will continue to promote various initiatives and establish programs to create an environment where employees from various backgrounds can flourish.

Going forward, the Company will continue to maintain and strengthen its information security structure based on the PDCA cycle.

In addition, the Company will strive to raise awareness of information security by providing education and training to its officers and employees and reporting the results to the Board of Directors.

C. Environmental initiatives

The Company's Digital Contents business accounts for approximately 75% of its total revenue and primarily entails the development and sale of software. This means that the Company's environmental impact and climate-related risks are lower than the general manufacturing industry. Therefore, the Company believes that the impact of climate change risks and profit opportunities on its business activities and earnings will be minimal.

However, the Company views addressing climate change as a challenge that requires the cooperation of everyone living on this planet. Based on this view, the Company leads its peers in the promotion of digital sales of its content, which is part of its efforts to conserve resources and curb CO₂ emissions in manufacturing and transporting physical media, such as game disks. The Company is also working to reduce its environmental impact by implementing power-saving measures and recycling certain parts in the manufacturing and sale of pachislo machines.

Furthermore, as part of the Company's environmental response, CO₂-free electricity sourced from renewable energy has been introduced in Company-owned buildings and other facilities in the Kansai area. As a result, approximately 27% of the power consumed by the Company in Japan is now provided by renewable energy. Furthermore, the Company is working to reduce its CO₂ output by introducing green power at its Tokyo branch and expanding the adoption of CO₂-free electricity at its other business locations. Additionally, the Company is making efforts to further reduce its environmental impact with initiatives such as using its own data centers, where power-saving measures are in place, while also using major cloud and data center service providers that promote the use of renewable energy.

③ Initiatives on corporate governance

The Company is continuously working to enhance its corporate governance to enhance the transparency and soundness of management, build a system that can respond to changes in the business environment, and raise its medium- to long-term corporate value.

In addition, it strives to build a relationship of trust and mutual prosperity with its stakeholders.

A. Strengthening corporate governance

The Company is working to strengthen the performance of the Board of Directors by ensuring the diversity of the Board and expanding opportunities for the active participation of external directors to achieve sustainable growth and raise corporate value over the medium to long term, while taking into account the perspective of our stakeholders.

In addition, the Company strives to strengthen the oversight functions of management through information sharing and mutual understanding by ways of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, which is chaired by an external director (and comprised of a majority of external directors), and meetings to exchange opinions between internal directors and external directors.

The Company has promoted diversity on the Board of Directors by appointing one new female external director in 2024, bringing the number of female directors to two. In addition, with respect to the remuneration system for executive directors, the Company has worked to further share value with shareholders by linking remuneration more closely to its business performance and introducing a performance-linked stock remuneration system.

B. Strengthening the risk management system

The Company recognizes that it is essential to develop and operate a system that can appropriately assess and manage the risks arising from its business activities in order to achieve sustainable growth. Furthermore, each department should analyze, evaluate, and consider responses to their respective risks, and strive to prevent potential crises from occurring. It is also important to strengthen cross-organizational management systems for risks that could have a significant impact on the Company.

To this end, the Company will work to take organizational measures to develop a structure to assess and oversee risk management across the entire Company and report on the status of risk management to the Board of Directors. Through these efforts, the Company will strive to enhance its internal control system, including internal control initiatives and promotion of compliance, and ensure that corporate governance functions effectively.
